NEWARK RANCHERS IN VIOLATION OF STATE POISON ACT ARRESTED

Two Men Being Held In Centerville Jail For Hearing

Antonio Guerrero and Conrado Guiterrez, Newark ranchers were arraigned before Judge Alan G. Norris, at the Centerville justice court, Tuesday afternoon, February 18, on a charge of violating the state poison act by growing marijuana, and possessing the leaves of hemp, which constitutes a felony. The two men are being held in jail and bail has been set at $2,000 apiece. The preliminary hearing of the case against Guerrero and Guitierrez will be held at the Centerville justice court Tuesday, February 24.

Burglars Caught

A complaint has been filed at the Centerville justice court, against Charles Sparks and Lawrence Viera for burglary, which was committed some time last September, and has remained a mystery until now. The charge against the men is stealing the electric motor from the pump house of the Centerville Grammar school. Sparks and Veira were apprehended in San Louis Obispo after attempting robbery, and in their confessions they told of many acts similar to the theft of the grammar school motor.

The two men are being held, and several warrants from diffrent localities have been issued for them.

Fred Santiago, Vernon All, Frank Vargus, and Goularte, of Alvarodo, who were arraigned before Judge Norris last week on a charge of disturbing the peace, were given a hearing Tuesday, February 18, and sentenced to ten days in the county jail, on a ninety days suspended sentence, in addition to paying all damages caused by them.

TOYON BRANCH TO MEET FEB. 24 AT PATTERSON HOME

The Toyon Branch of the Southern Alameda County Baby Hospital will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. William Patterson, of Newark, on February 24, and a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. J. W Meyers, of Niles Canyon, will read several original poems as a feature of the entertainment. Although Mrs. Myers has never published any of her poems, many of them have been heard. "Dobbsie," of radio fame, has broadcasted them over the ether during his hour for the "Shut-ins," and favorable comment was made concerning them. Mrs. Myers writes of every day things, that might happen to any one, and many of her subjects are handled delightfully.

Miss Dorothy Gabrial, of Oakland, spent the week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Al. Corey.

Niles Chamber Gets Report on Oiling Unfinished Streets

J. A. Casson Tells Cost and Benefits Of Paving

The weekly luncheon meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce was held February 18, at the Florence restaurant, and Harvey Braun, president of the chamber presided.

Letters from the state highway commission were read, and in these it was stated that a landscaping engineer was looking over the situation, of the proposed plan for the highway between Hayward and Niles.

At this meeting the following membership committee was appointed: J. E. Townsend, chairman; F. V. Jones, George Donovan, and G. F. Glassbrook. A nominating committee was also appointed as follows; William Helm, chairman; E. E. Dias, and G. F. Glassbrook.

The annual membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce started Tuesday, and it is expected that a large number of members will be signed up than in former years.

At this time J. A. Casson, a paving contractor from Hayward, reported that he could oil the remaining portion of the Niles streets, that was not completed by the county, at a cost of two and one half cents per square foot. It is estimated that this would mean, on an eighty-foot frontage, the expenditure of $15 by the private property owners for oiling of streets.

Mr. Casson also stated that he would interview property owners and make an attempt to sign up all of them for the paving project. He explained that if the streets were oiled only in irregular patches the benefit of the paving would not be received, for the unpaved places would get all the water draining from the oiled portions, and the whole project would be only a means of wasting time and money.

Following Mr. Casson, Cyril Williams ,engineer of the Alameda County Water district, spoke on the water problems of Washington Township, and gave important and interesting highlights of the subject.

W. B. Kirk acted as membership chairman, and he was successful in having thirty-one members and three guests present. F. V. Jones was appointed as membership chairman for the coming week.

BANK SYSTEM IS INNOVATED BY SCOUTS OF NILES

Lawrence Pine Appointed To All Official Positions

At a recent meeting of the Niles troop of the Boy Scouts of America, the subject of banking was introduced and fully discussed. Several good points were brought out and enlarged upon by the scouts. Some of them were; that all bankers wear good looking clothes; work short hours; and ride about the country in cars known to be of expensive make. These points served as an illustration that there was much money to be made in the banking business.

After a review of the subject, and a survey of the field, it was believed that the community was quite able to support two banks, and it was therefore voted that a Boy Scout bank should be established.

Lawrence Pine was unanimously elected to serve in the bank in several official capacities; mainly as president, vice-president, cashier, secretary and janitor. He accepted with alacrity the several offices, and he gave a very commendable speech in acknowledgement of the honor. In his speech he thanked the members of the troop for their faith in his integrity, and hoped that they would never have reason or occasion to regret their action. The election of an auditor to watch the cashier was left until some future date, and it is expected that when the need arises the largest depositor will be appointed to that position.

This bank is to be run on almost modern lines, somewhat similar to the bank of "Amos and Andy" fame; the deposits being securely hidden in a place known only to the cashier. In this way the expense of installing a vault will be eliminated. Another item of expense that will be eliminated is that of bookkeeper. Each depositor will receive a receipt for his deposit and when he wants to know how much he has

PREPARATION FOR STREET OILING ALMOST FINISHED

County In Co-operation With Owners Of Property

The preparation for the oiling of the streets of Niles is progressing rapidly. Second street is practically completed; while Third and G streets are being plowed and scraped. On some streets it is necessary to cut down from 14 to 15 inches in order to have a straight grade, and in other places fills two feet deep have to be made. This grading is being done to facilitate drainage during the winter season.

The report from the county men is that the side walks are in a deplorable condition, and decidedly out of line, therefore they will survey a straight line and the streets will be oiled to conform with this. Property owners will have to complete the work from the county line to their own land. and fill up any uneven sections.

The county is to pave 50 percent of the streets and land owners will complete the project. It is expected that the construction will be finished by the first of July.

It was also announced that a sivty foot street would be opened onto Main street by removing a double row of trees just north of the new American Legion Memorial building. This street would serve those living beyond the Grammar school, west, and save needless driving on "G" and Second streets.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS LEADERS OF SCOUT TROOP

A surprise party was given Friday night at the Boy Scout club rooms, by the Niles troop, in honor of the twenty-first birthday of Scoutmaster Marshall Green, and Assistant Scoutmaster Morrison Green. Twenty-six people were present. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitte, parents of the honor guests, Reverend Elmer Brinkmeyer, and J. J. Townsend, troop committeeman.

Everett Mendenhall was master of ceremonies, and the refreshment committee was composed of Patrol Leaders Jack Townsend, Melvin Farmer, Frank Ferry and Arnold Abrott. The entertainment of the evening was game playing, after which the refreshments were served. These "eats" consisted of hot-dogs, sandwiches, chocolate, and five home-made cakes. Two of these cakes were made by Mrs. Mendenhall, mother of Everett Mendenhall, and they were beautifully decorated with ornamental icing, and each supported twenty-one candles in honor of the birthday.

At the close of the festivities Scoutmaster Marshall Green and Assistant Scoutmaster Morrison Green were presented with several articles of scout equipment by their troop.

It was agreed that this party was a success from all standpoints, and quite the best the Niles Boy Scouts had ever sponsored.

F. T. DUSTERBERRY HOST AT BLUEBIRD'S PARTY ON FEB. 15

On Saturday evening, February 15, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Dusterberry, of Centerville, entertained at their home in honor of the Bluebird club, of Newark, which consists of the Bluebirds and their mates.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing whist, in which Mrs. John E. Dutra held high score for the ladies, and Norval Turnbow, high score for gentlemen. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Reider, and John E. Dutra. Mrs. Joseph Blacow was the lucky winner of the door prize, which was a lovely woolen blanket.

At eleven o'clock a sumptuous supper was served at two beautifully decorated tables, the motif being St. Valentine's. After the supper the guests all were ushered back into the living room, where they found various games arranged on tables awaiting their return to the room. Some played tiddley-winks, some "went fishing," and others played dominoes. A jolly hour was quickly passed and the guests, together with their host and hostess, gathered around the piano and sang "Songs of Yesterday." After this the guests said good-night to their host and hostess.

This party for the Bluebirds is "the" social affair of the year and is looked forward to with pleasure by the Bluebirds, as they all know what a wonderful time is in store for them.

Small Property Owner Sees Kettleman Gas Situation

(CONTRIBUTED)

THE EYES of the oil world are not as large as the eyes of the small property owners in Kettleman Hills. Picture yourself with fruits ready to harvest, and your crop cannot be picked. Only the crops of those especially favored, those basking in the light of the government smile were able to produce and market their products.

The conservation plan was subtly carried out. Little did the small property owner know how thoroughly he was tied. The movement gave the large holders a chance to produce and market their gas; thus harvesting their crop.

The small holder was not allowed to produce gas, neither could he sell his land, for property values were worthless. The private owner should never join forces with the larger owners and producers until his rights have been thoroughly considered and granted. When this is done conservation will come much faster and much better for the small owner.

If the state will not allow the private owner to produce why should it not buy at the price of $450,000 to $500,000 per acre, and rated from other oil fields in addition free from income tax?

Mrs. Emma Murray, librarian of the Jane Clough Memorial library, Niles county branch, reports that the nuumber of books being sent for as requisitions is increasing. Many of these books are received from various points.

Mrs. Murray also stated that the books dealing with the international peace problem are especially in demand. There are two books, by imminent authors which were donated to the library some time ago, and those interested in establishing friendly relations between the countries are finding a great deal of material worth studying in them. There are some other books that give facts concerning the conditions and methods of warfare that the average person might never think of, and points are raised that are worthy of much consideration.

Several books written in Italian and Spanish have also been received, and patrons of the library are finding them very enjoyable.

Rod La Rocque makes an intriguing villian, rounder and general blackguard. Pretty Miss Bronson is the central feminine figure.

Gloria Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark, sustained several bruises and cuts, last week, when the car in which she and her mother were riding collided with another parked on a street in San Jose.

The child was immediately taken to a hospital for treatment, where several stitches had to be taken before a cut on her forehead could be closed. Miss Gloria is improving rapidly and it is expected that she will be completely recovered in a short time. Mrs. Clark, who was driving the car, was unhurt, suffering only slightly from shock.

WASHINGTON UNION HIGH SCHOOL PLANS MANY NEW ACTIVITIES

The debating society of Washington Union High school has been organized and the following officers have been elected:

Otello Bellini, president; Elizabeth Shinn, vice-president; and Constance Reina, secretary-treasurer. A meeting was held Wednesday to discuss various subjects. Fifteen people are interested in the society at present, and they are under the direction of Warren Gravestock, Miss Grace Knoles, Miss Ada J. Roberts and Miss Beatrice Taylor, members of the high school faculty.

The Hayward High school has challenged Washington Union High school and it is expected that a debate will be held at an early date. Two debating teams from Washington will participate.

School Camera Week

The week is known as "Camero Week" at Washington Union High school, and a prize is being offered for the best photograph. Pictures of all kinds will be acceptable. Some will be grotesque, ugly, beautiful. exquisite, sad, pitiful, humorous, and they will be taken of students in all postures, situations, and clothes.

These photographs will be published in the Pictorial, which is being put out by the senior class, and will take the place of the annual, which was made up of printed material as well as pictures. The pictorial will be composed entirely of photographs.

The senior class is offering as a prize one reserved seat ticket to the senior play, to the member of the senior class who sells the most Pictorials. Members of the Pictorial staff are not eligible for this competition.

Typing Contest

V. E. Solvason, head of the commercial department of the high school, has arranged a typing contest, which is to take place some time in May. This contest is to be between the Hayward High school, Amador High school, Pleasanton, Washington Union High school, and perhaps the Livermore High school, although Mr. Solvason stated that it was undecided whether Livermore students would participate.

State Band Contest

A meeting was held at the Washington Union High school last Thursday evening to discuss plans for sending the student band to the state competition which is to be held in the Civic Auditorium in Sacremento. It was estimated that $900 will be needed to send the band to the contest, and a committee has been appointed to raise this amount.

There was a large attendance at this meeting, and the band played three numbers, as a feature of entertainment. People of of the township are interested in the enterprise, and many of them believe that this would be an excellent way of advertising the community.

Mr. Kimber, music instructor, stated that the band shows wonderful improvement, and development in the six months that he has been giving them his undivided attention, and he is pleased with the results of his work.

At the state competition the judges will be seated behind a screen, and the players will be heard but not seen. That arrangement will eliminate any chance of favoritism, because the groups of players will remain unknown to those doing the judging.

Those appointed on the music committee are Reverend Elmer Brinkmeyer, A. A. Bettencourt, Mrs. Steinhoff, E. E. Carrol, J. C. Wasley. Mrs. George Coit, John Vasconcellos, Mrs. Antron, and Raymond Benbow.

Speedball Series

A series of speedball games have been played by teams of the various period classes in physical education, and the final playoff is to take place some time soon, between the second and third class, Agatha Willis captains the second, and Aldina Perry is captain of the third. It is expected that the final contest will be well worth watching, for the teams are well matched.

Junior Prom

For some time the members of the Junior class have been trying to decide whether to have a banquet or a prom, and at last they have decided on a prom. The discussion of this subject has been going on since school opened last fall, and it finally ended after a meeting at which William Mitte, junior advisor, stated that if the members of the class were willing to eat sardines and crackers at their banquet they could go right ahead and have one. It seems that the Junior class is financially embarrassed, and before any banquests are held some high financing will have to be done.

The Junior prom is one of the three most important social events of the year, and it will be held some time in the coming spring. Now that the banquet question is settled the Junior class will be very active appointing committees for various duties in connection with the prom.

The Ladies' Ail will give a party at the home of Mrs. C. E. Anderson on Friday afternoon.

SUPERVISOR RICHMOND REPORTS RESULTS OF NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Newspapers On Atlantic Seaboard Tell Of Alameda County

The effectiveness of newspaper advertising is now being demonstrated to members of the board of supervisors of Alameda county who are conducting an advertising campaign on the Atlantic seaboard and in middle western states to tell residents there of the advantages of this county as a future home.

According to Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond results are already being secured from the national campaign, in which a total of $50,000 is being spent by the board exclusively in newspapers. The first advertisement of this campaign appeared a short time ago in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis and several other leading dailies of the east. As a result inquiries in large numbers for more information about Alameda county have been received here, it was said.

"In addition to the newspaper advertising, several pieces of literature have been prepared, telling of the agricultural, industrial, aerial and educational advantages of the county," said Supervisor Richmond today. "These booklets are mailed to those people who write secretaries of the chambers of commerce of Oakland, Berkeley, Niles, Hayward, Livermore, San Leandro, Piedmont, Albany, Emeryville, Alvarado, Pleasanton, Centerville, Irvington, Newark, Decoto or Sunol asking for additional information about this great territory in which we live."

Supervisor Richmond declared that the members of the board were more than pleased wth the results obtained at this early date in the national county advertising campaign which reaches an audience of nearly 12,000,000 persons. "Even though only one advertisement has appeared to date in eastern papers, the number of inquiries received from it "The newspaper is the greatest advertising medium we have in America today. The American people depend upon it for news, for information about amusements and for suggestions where to purchase food, clothing and other necessities.

"When the board of supervisors decided to advertise Alameda county nationally it was agreed to spend practically all of its appropriation in newspapers, because of the influence they have on the public. We believe the results already obtained more than justify our decision," concluded Supervisor Richmond.

In addition to the $50,000 national advertising campaign, the advertisements being run in the east are reproduced in the various county papers in order that Alameda county residents may become more familiar than they are with the community in which they live.

SHRUBS ARE TO BE PLANTED AT NEW CORPORATION LOT

Planting of shrubs in the corporation yard at the new fire house in Pleasanton is to be started within the near future, according to announcements made this week by members of council of that city. The grading of the yard has been completed, the heavy wire fence erected and the curbing laid, making the entire project as planned ready for use.

It is the contemplated purpose of council and members of the volunteer fire department to make the yard about the fire house a spot of beauty to which residents of the town may point with pride. Shrubs are to be planted around the borders of the yard, grass and flowers are to be planted within the yard itself.

There also is a possibility that a minature lake will be constructed in the center of the enclosure.

SOLUTION OF BABY DEATH MYSTERY THOUGHT NEAR

Police Believe They Have Answer to Crime, But Cannot Prove It

While police believe that they have the proper solution for the "baby mystery" at Pleasanton it is beyond their power at present to bring the case to a close because although the theory is apparently correct, several details yet remain to be cleared up.

The portion of baby's body was uncovered by a dog in a vacant lot at the corner of Harrison and Bernal streets.

A woman whose name police have withheld, noticed the dog and its unsightly burden and summoned Constable Albert Vervais.

Body Missing

Upon investigation the thing in the grasp of the dog was found to be a portion of a baby's body. There was not enough of the body left to determine the sex or age. Police investigated the field in which the body evidently was found, but were unable to locate and further portions of the body.

What was left of the tiny human form was removed to Graham's Undertaking Parlors Graham's Undertaking Parlors, Pleasanton, and held until ordered interred.

Because of the small portion of the body, the right arm, skull and stomach, it was impossible to determine. so police state, whether the child died a natural death or was killed. Under the circumstances, as they stand at present the only charge which appears may be brought against the guilty party is that of burial in an unlicensed plot.

Theory Eliminated

Police after the first few hours search of the premises in which the body was found, scouted the idea that the body might have been tossed from a passing automobile. The spot where the body is believed to have been buried was near the center of the field, which is fenced in, eliminating that theory.

Police have refused to reveal the exact nature of their solution of the mystery. It is current opinion, however, that even tho police may think they know the answer to the mystery, they will be unable to procure tangible evidence and that the case will go down in local police annals as another unsolved mystery.

Destiny of the Water District In Voters' Hands

Alvarado Pumping Rights Can Be Acquired Only By Direct Purchase

By CHRIS RUNCKEL, Secretary

The call for a bond election on March 25 means everything to the future of the Alameda county Water District. It is now up to the voters of the District to decide whether or not they favor buying out the pumping rights of the East Bay Municipal Utility District at Alvarado. The only way these rights can be acquired is by purchase. A former generation permitted these rights to be established. In our time we have stopped any new diversion rights from being established. We have also tried in every way since the District was formed to cut down or stop the pumping and diversion rights at Alvarado without being forced to buy them back. We are finally faced with this proposition: SHALL WE APPROVE THE ISSUE OF BONDS ON MARCH 25 SO THAT THE AGREEMENT WITH THE EAST BAY MUNICIPAL UTILITY DISTRICT MAY BE CARRIED OUT?

The Utility District was forced to buy these rights from the East Bay Water Company. In selling to our District the officials of the East Bay Municipal Utility District assert they have met our District on a fifty-fifty basis. They are selling the pumping rights and property at Alvarade, including 382 (three-hundred-eighty-two) acres of land in our district for $290,000. This represents less than half of what the Utility District was forced to pay the East Bay water Company. The reason for the concession is that the diversion and use of the underground water supply of a rich farming section of the county should be stopped now that the cities have brought in a new supply from the Sierras. But a public body like the Utility District cannot give away public property that has been bought. There is no alternative, no substitute. If we want to stop the diversion of water at Alvarado, we must pay the price.

Only Way to Save District It Is a Good Bargain

We know our directors have made a good deal for the district. The rights are worth the money. The benefits to come to the District from the stopping of this big loss of water will be immediate and they will increase as the years go on.. Each succeeding generation will be more greatly benefitted. It will be a beneficient piece of public work.

Other Problems Easy to Work Out Distribution System not Difficult

Assuming that the bonds will be voted, the next step is to sell the bonds and close up the deal with the Utility Ditrict, secure possession of these rights and STOP THE HEAVY PUMPING at Alvarado. (It is understood that the people of Alvarado and Mt. Eden who secure their supply from the present system will be cared for while a new system of distribution is being developed.) After the pumping at Alvarado is stopped the sale of the lands at Alvarado will be made and the proceeds used to cut down and help carry the bond issue. The matter of re-adjusting the District's distribution system will commence as soon as the property at Alvarado is acquired.

Once the pumping at Alvarado is stopped, the District will face two principal tasks. The first and most important one is to build up and increase the underground supply so far as the District can by placing the released water from the Calaveras dam into the gravel beds, and by finding ways to facilitate and increase percolation when nature sends floods down Alameda Creek.,

Distribution Not Difficult Factor

The other will be the matter of providing and building up a distribution system for the various towns of the District. The District as a whole is ideally situated for a perfect distribution system. With prudence and good sense and a reasonable respect for the tax payers' rights this distribution problem ought to be solved without too much burden. In fact the distribution can eventually be made to pay its own way and also contribute something toward cutting down the cost of carrying and redeeming the bond issue debt. Municipal distribution of water is one of the most successful forms of public ownership in the United States anl for that matter in the entire civilized world. With all our local advantages we ought to make it a real success.

MORE ON Founders Day

will be made, it is believed, although definite word of such has not been received to date by Mrs. Siggins.

Of especial interest at the Founders' Day program will be exhibits which will include the work of educators and school children alike, heirlooms, exhibits from the Berkeley Art Museum featuring a Mills College group, P. T. A. posters, 4-H club work, an exhibit of articles made by Japanese children sent to the Junior Red Cross in return for Christmas gifts of a year ago, and antiques.

All exhibits are to be brought to the meeting in the morning properly labelled with name of owner entered into the registry book and may be claimed at the close of the meeting.

Open To Public

The general public will be admitted to view the exhibits between the hours of 12 noon and 1 p. m.

In order that the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the Parent-Teachers' Association may be fittingly remembered, two pictures of the group are to be taken. One will be a flashlight of the business session within the walls of the Pleasanton Grammar School, and the other will be an outdoor picture into which it is the aim of the officers of the organization to have everyone present, including the school band.

The auditorium of the grammar school is the scene of much activity this week on the part of the Pleasanton members of the association. They are devoting hours to decorating the room and arranging space for the exhibits.

To Give Tableau

During the afternoon, one of the highlights will be a tableau and cake candle lighting ceremony in which a poem written by Mrs. Siggins will be used. The verse follows:

Cake Lighting Poem

We like to think of those two women,
Fair minded and right,
Who started problems, that they knew
We would take their places, and fight
For the cause they would have us do.
So we bid you welcome here today
To light the candles tall
To promote child weflare as they builded their plans
Thirty-two years ago today.
Phoebe Hearst and Alice Birney
You have well blazed the way,
Child welfare it is safe
Through the P. T. A.

—Bessie Siggins.

MORE ON Bank System

in the bank all he has to do is total the amounts of his receipts. There will be no checks honored. This seems to be such a splendid idea that it seems rather odd that older banks have not devised the same system. If all the money enters the bank and none is allowed to depart, it seems as if there will be nothing to prevent some of the officials from becoming financially influential.

As the institution has been in existence only a week it is perhaps a little early to make any predictions of future developments, but as the outlook is now, after viewing the weekly statement of the bank, it is generally believed that the Boy Scout bank will offer strong competition to real banking houses.

The weekly statement of the bank shows deposits of $1.35, and six notes of $1.50 each, held for collection, which may prove the start of BIG BUSINESS.

The troop funds are still carried in the Bank of Alameda county however, as the real purpose of the Scout bank is to help the boys save some money to purchase uniforms.

RACING CARS USE RICHFIELD OIL IN MOTION PICTURES

Screen stories based on the thrills and spills of the speedway have been interesting in the past, but lacking one important and dramatic element of racing—the roar of the cars and crowds.

Now that the phonoplay is here, however, all the sounds which add to the excitement of death-defying auto racing can be produced. This is the case with "Burning Up," first of the sound racing stories, which has just been produced by Paramount and will shortly be shown in local theaters.

The racing cars were powered with Richfield gasoline, which holds more speedway records than all other makes of gas combined, and oiled with Richlube, thus making the reel race correspond to a real race.

REQUISITIONS AT NILES LIBRARY ARE INCREASING

Surveyors from the state office have been working on Main street, Niles, and workmen have bored holes in the pavement preparatory to placing stakes to support head-boards for the paving which is to be started soon.

This project will be begun as soon as the work on the Hayward highway outside of Niles is completed. The street is to be completely paved from curb to curb.

This will be a great improvement on the now existing condition of the street. Traffic will be expedited and travel made safer. And as we have said before, Niles' eyes are open, and looking toward the bright goal ahead, which is growth and prosperity.

TAXPAYERS OF ALAMEDA COUNTY TO MEET FEB. 21

This is a non-political, non-partisan organization for the purpose of promoting economy and efficiency in government, and thereby reducing taxation.

Rolland A. Vandergrift will be the principal speaker of the evening, and he will explain the purpose of the organization and discuss the tax situation. Mr. Vandergrift is well known, and he has devoted much time to the survey of conditions concerning taxpayers in several of the counties in California.
